Antiquities and Curiosities.

101 A brass plate with a handle engraved with very singular characters and several figures, purchased from Dr. Mead's collection, the Doctor supposed it to contain the Basilidian Mysteries.

N B. Basilides was the oldest of the Egyptian Gnostics, he flourished in the second century. Vide Macarius de Abraxes, &c. Antwerp, 1657, 4to.

102 An exceeding curious carved and engraved two-handle Izada-stone cup, (commonly called lad stone,) a gem held in great veneration by the eastern nations who ascribed to it many virtues; the Asiatic princes mounted their sabres and made small drinking-cups of it.

103 A head of King William III. a fine large cameo on cristal, mounted in gold.

104 A curious ancient striking watch.

105 Two ancient monastic seals in silver.
